Detailed description: The diagram shows the assembly of a paper dinosaur. It features a central illustration of the dinosaur with four numbered grey areas (1, 2, 3, 4) indicating where to glue the pieces. Part 1 is a large, trapezoidal piece with three holes at the top. Part 2 is a long, narrow neck piece with a small head at the top. Part 3 is a long, narrow tail piece with a small tail at the bottom. Part 4 is a large, trapezoidal piece with three holes at the top, similar to part 1. Arrows point from these parts to the corresponding areas on the dinosaur. The text 'pegar cola' (glue tail) and 'pegar cuello y cabeza' (glue neck and head) is placed near the tail and head respectively. A legend at the bottom explains the symbols: a dashed line for 'recortar' (cut), a red line for 'plegar' (fold), and a grey square for 'pegar' (glue). A small printer icon and the text 'Imprimir en hoja oficio' are in the top right corner. Logos for the Chilean government and the Museo Nacional de Historia Natural Chile are in the top left corner.
